

Configuration of Message Manager Terminals

1. The file `/appl/bin/mm/copyex` sets up message manager terminals. Just run at the prompt without arguments for usage information.
2. The file `docopyex` is in the path for most ABCS systems. It uses the same arguments. You can run it without having to change to the directory, but doesn't give you usage information.
3. The "fixterms" script in this directory will automatically configure all the terminals on the system. Transfer it to their machine and run it. Transfer the file to `/tmp` and type `". fixterms"` to run it. Do not use file if you are only going to fix a couple of terminals.
